

ESTABLISHED AUGUST 24, 1852.

The Intelligencer.

Office No. 25 and 27, Fourteenth Street, Wheeling, W. Va.

General Kiefer would not make a good Washington correspondent. The correspondent who writes from his inner consciousness must clothe the product with tact and plausibility.

One of the charges against Mr. George F. Kane is that he is a Knight of Labor, and therefore an unfit person to be postmaster at Martinsburg. This is too bad. Mr. Evans ought to reform or get the Knights to regulate him.

Those who have not heard Wendell Phillips have lost forever an opportunity to hear the English language spoken with all the faults of a foreigner. In this regard it is doubtful whether Mr. Phillips had an equal in the country.

The ambition of Mr. Foster, late Governor of Ohio, was to go to the United States Senate, but his desire was not gratified. If his present ambition is to make of himself a martyr and a disturber of the peace in the Republican party, he seems likely to succeed. Somebody ought to read Mr. Conkling's "Zeno" letter to him.

ASSISTANT ADJUTANT GENERAL RAMSEY, of the Grand Army of the Republic, New York, in his annual report calls attention to some things which would call for attention in this State. He complains that there is too much rank and too much "free lunch" here. He proposes, "When a comrade wants a glass of beer let him buy and pay for it."

"Products of the soil get no benefit from protection," say the free traders.

"Protection causes overproduction, and overproduction causes low prices and low wages," say the free traders.

Let it be admitted, for sake of argument, that protection is the cause of the depressed market for manufactured products.

The market for agricultural products is depressed—what is the matter with that?

Is his speech on the Schenck tariff bill of 1870 General Garfield said:

Congress has been a failure so far as the business of the country. This very day the great industries of the nation are standing still, paralyzed at the uncertainty which hangs over our proceedings here. A distinguished citizen of my own district has written me this significant sentence: "If the laws of God and nature were as valid as the laws of Congress in relation to the business of its people, the universe would soon fall into chaos."

Speaking of "holy terrors," where are Carlisle and Morrison and the House and the party that have registered a high resolve to rule or ruin through the instrumentality of this Congress?

Mr. Morrison has at last hit the country with his tariff bill. He has learned nothing since his exploit of 1870, and has not profited by the example of that misguided man, Fernando Wood, who "marched on the hill and then marched down again." Mr. Morrison is a free trader, but he has not dared to bring in a free-trade measure. He has been stupid enough to offer a bill which cuts a slice twenty percent off the tariff, and follows that with a little extra trimmings to take off the rough edges he had left. His bill is "neither fish, flesh, nor good red herring."

If there be inequalities in the present law he believes them there, for a horizontal reduction does not change the relation of things. The relation of things is changed only where Mr. Morrison takes up with the raw materials and tries his hand in that direction. Seeing that the raw material is largely used in manufacturing, is labor—the intelligence which we pay for—and the vitality which they expend that they may live and maintain their families—it becomes a matter of interest to workmen to know where the raw materials way is to land them.

Mr. Morrison's bill is as bad as the summary of it indicates, it will be disgraced in the Ways and Means Committee and kicked to death in the House. Protectionists will fight it; revenue reformers will not find it what they have hoped for, and conscientious free traders will oppose it as being at once too hot and too cold—conceding too much to incidental protection and too little to "revenue only."

It is a coincidence that while the Berkeley farmers were passing their tax resolutions, drawn by the hand of so distinguished a Democrat as the Hon. Charles Janes Fawcett, and while that gentleman was advocating the resolutions with a force of invective that has startled his own party, Governor Pierpont, an eminent man of an opposing party, was writing, or had already dispatched to the INTELLIGENCER, the argument which this paper is permitted to present to-day. The utterances, it will be observed, are in the same line and aimed at the same point. They are in full agreement throughout, and they can not be answered.

The striking coincidence is suggestive of the state of the public mind touching the question of taxation by usurpation. Republicans are not more moved than Democrats; for though Democratic "leaders" have for the most part been dumb—possibly because they lack the courage to follow—the minds of the rank and file are possessed of the one thought that power has been wrested from the constitutional authorities and used to rap the pockets of the tax-payers.

It matters not whether the tax be large or small; it finds no warrant in the law or in any accepted rule of construction; and if what has been done can be done in one case it can be done in all cases, and we may as well abolish the legislative and judicial branches and stake our chances on an absolute executive.

In time of war we heard much from the party to which the Governor belongs of extra constitutional authority. In time of peace the Governor dies in the face of the Constitution and tramples on an Act of Legislature signed Jacob B. Jackson. The sense of propriety and of self-preservation revolts against the usurpation.

MORRISON'S CHILD

THE PROPOSED NEW TARIFF LAW.

Proscribed a Hostility and an Aberrancy—War on the Milling Industry of the Country—The Wool Tariff to Come Down Forty Percent. A Big Kick Among the Democrats.

From Our Special Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, February 3.—Well-informed and honest revenue reformers speak of the Morrison bill as a nonentity and an aberrancy. They comment on its lack of principle and system. One very prominent man, speaking of the proposed measure, said to-day that there were a number of things ranging from sixty to one hundred percent and upwards in the present tariff. A horizontal reduction of twenty percent on these would make no impression on the duty and still leave it prohibitory. On the other hand there were various revenue articles where the duty was already low and would be cut down twenty percent regardless of this cut. Again, there were various industries now just living under the present tariff, which by the application of an arbitrary reduction of twenty percent would be entirely destroyed.

Section 2 of the bill is a declaration of war on the milling industry of Virginia, Ohio, West Virginia, Tennessee, Kentucky and Alabama. Iron ore is made entirely free of duty after the first of July next, as are also coal slack or culm, bituminous or sub-bituminous, and a number of other articles. It looks as if the section was drafted up to get Mr. Morrison's support. It is paying a high price for it and after all may not be successful, for Mr. Hewitt has the vanity to think that he can get the tariff bill through the House. He is a man who has a rough time when it comes to the House. It will be like putting a paper boat on the Atlantic in a storm. It is doubtful if Joe Backman will link himself to any such measure, which is neither free trade nor protection, but a compromise between the two. It is a compromise between the protectionists and the free traders, and it is a compromise between the Democrats of Ohio, Virginia, New Jersey and New York out of the party, to wind up after all with such a pretense at legislation.

With this showing of hands the serious divisions of the happy family of revenue reformers are now brought to the surface. It is very possible that after this effectiveness of folly the practical result may be an abolition of the internal revenue duties in whole or in part.

THE PROGRESS OF THE TARIFF.

WASHINGTON, February 4.—Representative Morrison completed his tariff bill this morning, and during the call of States introduced it in the House. The bill was prepared last week, and with the exception of placing a few articles on the free list, concerning which Mr. Morrison was undecided, a reduction of 20 percent is made on the numerous articles, while in a few cases the reduction is greater or less than this rate. A provision prevents any reduction to a rate lower than that in the tariff act of 1881. The title of the bill is, "An act to reduce import duties and war tariff taxes." It provides that on and after the first day of July, 1884, in lieu of the duties and rates of duty then in force, the following rates shall be in force: Schedule "A," cotton and cotton goods; schedule "B," hemp, flax and flax goods; schedule "C," wool and woolen goods; schedule "D," metals other than iron; schedule "E," books, papers, etc.; schedule "F," sugar; schedule "G," tobacco; schedule "H," wood and woodwares; schedule "I," glassware and glassware; schedule "J," earthenware and glassware; schedule "K," provisions, except as hereinafter provided; schedule "L," sundries other than precious stones, salt, coal, brimstone, asphaltum, and other articles mentioned in schedule "A," cotton and cotton goods; schedule "M," hemp, flax and flax goods; schedule "N," wool and woolen goods; schedule "O," metals other than iron; schedule "P," books, papers, etc.; schedule "Q," sugar; schedule "R," tobacco; schedule "S," wood and woodwares; schedule "T," glassware and glassware; schedule "U," earthenware and glassware; schedule "V," provisions, except as hereinafter provided; schedule "W," sundries other than precious stones, salt, coal, brimstone, asphaltum, and other articles mentioned in schedule "A," cotton and cotton goods; schedule "X," hemp, flax and flax goods; schedule "Y," wool and woolen goods; schedule "Z," metals other than iron; schedule "AA," books, papers, etc.; schedule "AB," sugar; schedule "AC," tobacco; schedule "AD," wood and woodwares; schedule "AE," glassware and glassware; schedule "AF," earthenware and glassware; schedule "AG," provisions, except as hereinafter provided; schedule "AH," sundries other than precious stones, salt, coal, brimstone, asphaltum, and other articles mentioned in schedule "A," cotton and cotton goods;
